To Whom It May Concern:

Doha Academy - Al-Waab and Doha Academy – Salwa Branch are currently accredited, valid through December 2027, having been granted initial accreditation by the New England Association of Schools and Colleges (NEASC) in 2022, following the completion of a comprehensive Self-Study by the staff of the school over a period of 12-18 months and an onsite, week-long evaluation by a NEASC Visiting Team of experienced educators. The school's accreditation status is confirmed each year through submission of an Annual Update, while a full External Review Visit by a team of qualified accreditation visitors occurs every five years, with the next such visit scheduled for 2027. In the years between the major visits, preparatory visits are conducted to ensure that all schools will be ready for their reaccreditation.

NEASC is an independent, voluntary, nonprofit membership organization which connects and serves over 1500 public, independent, and international learning communities in the US and worldwide. Founded in 1885, the New England Association of Schools and Colleges (NEASC) has been working to establish and maintain high standards for all levels of education longer than any other accreditation agency in the United States. A globally recognized standard of excellence that enjoys recognition by universities throughout the United States and internationally, NEASC Accreditation attests to a school's high quality and integrity. The three NEASC K-12 commissions decide matters of accreditation in the context of research-driven standards reviewed by their membership.

NEASC's Commission on International Education currently works with more than 500 K-12 schools in more than 90 countries across the globe. NEASC's accreditation process is highly regarded throughout the world and furthermore enjoys recognition by the United States government Department of State's Office of Overseas Schools.
